HOVIK KEUCHKERIAN (Beirut, 1972) is a Spanish-Armenian actor who began his professional career as a boxer (two-time Spanish Heavyweight Champion). After leaving his sports career, he directed his steps into the world of stand-up comedy where he quickly excelled, becoming part of the regular cast of comedians on the Paramount Comedy channel. He soon drew attention for his acting ability and made the leap to television and film. He has received many awards both for his work in short films and for the fourteen feature films and eight series in which he has participated. Besides, he is the author of four books of poetry (Resiliente, the latter, a book-disc with music by Pájaro Sunrise) and regularly works as a voice actor in television commercials, where he has collaborated with important brands (Toyota, DAZN, White Lable, Beers El Aguila, Simyo...).
